

Community Group Discipleship Questions

Most of discipleship happens in informal settings: conversations over meals, at the park, and in the regular flow of life. As a leader, how can you pursue others and have intentional conversations that produce fruit? Here is a list of go-to questions to ask in the formal and informal moments of community life.

What was good about your week? Why?
How did it make you feel?

What has been on your mind the most this week?

What things can we celebrate or give thanks for from this past week?

What's taking most of your mental/emotional energy? Why?

What has brought you the most joy this week? Why?

What are you desiring more than anything else?

Where did you see Jesus in your life this week? In someone else's life? Did you learn anything from that?

What do you find yourself daydreaming or fantasizing about?

Did your love and passion for Jesus grow this week? How?

What lies are you subtly believing that undermine the truth of the gospel?

Did your compassion and grace toward others grow this week? How?

How does the gospel surprise you? Where have you made much of yourself and little of God?

What was bad about your week? Why? How did it make you feel?

Is technology stealing attention from your family?

What was a significant struggle you had this week? How did you deal with it? Did you learn anything from it?

Is work replacing your spouse's place in your heart?

What has made you feel worried or frustrated this week? Why? How did you deal with it?

Where do your thoughts drift to when you enter a social setting?

What has made you feel sad this week? Why? How did you deal with it?

What fears are paralyzing your heart from enjoying God?

What has made you feel angry this week? Why? How did you deal with it?

What consumes your thoughts when you have alone time?