From Pastor Dave Brewer

For most people, the new year brings an opportunity for reflection as we look back on the previous year, the good and the bad, and consider how we want things to be different in the new year ahead. In these times, we need an anchor, a grounding, that helps us with our evaluation.

Each year at this time, I use Psalm 90 as that anchor. Psalm 90 is a wonderful description of the eternality of God, his existence being from everlasting to everlasting, and it is beautifully juxtaposed against our frailty as humans. The result is a genuine prayer in v12 of "So teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom." The new year is a great time to cultivate humility of heart as you prayerfully consider where the Lord is leading you and your family into this new year!
